Handicrafts are produced based on the art and creativity of the people of each region and by hand without the use of industrial machines. In addition to cultural and artistic aspects, these industries have an important role in the development of trade and economy of any country and provide new opportunities for employment, trade and export.

One of the important aspects of handicrafts is to preserve and promote local art and culture. These industries produce objects of artistic and cultural value that represent the history and character of a region or country. Preservation of these local arts and techniques also preserves the cultural identity of a region.

Handicrafts attract tourists with cultural and historical characteristics. Encouraging the purchase of local handmade items will increase the income of local people and develop handicrafts. Therefore, the development of handicrafts also helps to promote local tourism and improves the economy of the community.

Making copper dishes is done by hand both in Zanjan and in Isfahan, and it is a hereditary art in many families. The main tasks include cutting, bending and welding of copper. Accurate performance and patience are very necessary for the artisans of these products.

Copper dishes are very popular because of their high quality and ability to retain heat as food service suitable for cooking. Also, copper dishes have a special place in the decoration of homes and give a unique beauty to the space.
